

Toby Gilligan-Flannigan loves sport, but he hates school. He thinks his two friends are the bomb, but his sister is the most annoying person in the world.

One day Toby's dad gives him an offer he can't refuse. Toby is told that if he has a cracker of a sports season he will get, wait for it, the GameBox V3 for free!

No one at school owns this video game!

Toby and his friends make a plan. But none of them betted on the new school bully ruining everything.

"Written in diary format, Toby's precocious overconfidence draws you in to the very end.
Irresistible."
